Product description

Why choose this power strip?

Power Socket 3Xsocket 3m White Prokord. This compact three-outlet power strip makes it easy to add reliable mains connections where you need them. The 3 m cable gives flexible placement away from the wall, and the angled Type F plug reduces strain in tight spaces. The white finish blends into office and meeting-room environments for a neat installation.

Power Socket 3Xsocket 3m White in short:

- Three Type F AC outlets for powering monitors, printers, routers and other desktop equipment.
- 3 m cable for flexible placement of the strip relative to the wall socket.
- Angled Type F plug to help position the unit behind furniture or in tight spaces.
- Designed for indoor placement, with a discreet white housing that fits office and home interiors.
- Consider whether you need surge protection or a switch depending on your setup, this product is a single unit for basic power distribution.

Practical use

Power Socket 3Xsocket 3m White Prokord distributes mains power to multiple devices from a single wall outlet. The recessed Type F sockets accept standard grounded plugs and keep connections secure. With three outlets you can consolidate power for a workstation, meeting area, or small equipment cluster without extra adapters.

Installation and fit

The angled, grounded plug helps reduce cable strain and makes the strip easier to place behind desks or cabinets. The 3 m cable increases placement options in rooms where wall sockets are not near the devices. The white casing provides a low-profile appearance and the package includes one unit.
