

Cable Displayport Ext 1m1m DisplayPort DisplayPort Black

Data sheet

Summary

- ✓ 1 m male-to-female DisplayPort extension, useful when ports are hard to reach or to extend an existing cable.
- ✓ Supports up to 4Kx2K at 60Hz and Multi-Stream Transport for daisy-chaining monitors.
- ✓ Gold-plated contacts and aluminium-foil plus braid shielding for stable signal and reduced interference.
- ✓ TPE/LSZH jacket and 6 mm diameter for easy routing in office or rack environments.
- ✓ Does not support HDR, so check source and display requirements for HDR content.

Product description

Why choose this DisplayPort extension cable?

Prokord Cable Displayport Ext 1m is a 1 metre DisplayPort 1.2 extension that keeps high-resolution video and multi-monitor setups working reliably. It supports 4Kx2K at 60Hz and MST, so you can extend a connection without losing image quality. Gold-plated contacts and foil plus braid shielding reduce interference, while the LSZH jacket and slim profile make routing simple and safe.

Cable Displayport Ext 1m in short:

Product details

This cable extends DisplayPort connections while preserving video quality and HDCP-protected content. The tinned copper conductors with 30AWG wiring and combined foil and braid shielding help maintain a clean signal for 4K@60Hz. Straight, gold-plated male and female connectors fit common monitors and docking stations without forcing port alignment. The low-smoke zero-halogen jacket and compact 6 mm diameter make the cable practical for tidy, safer installations.
