Product details

Prokord Cable HDMI - HDMI 5m Angled Black is a male-to-male HDMI cable with a straight plug on one end and a right-angled plug on the other, designed for installations with limited clearance. The integrated ferrite beads near each connector reduce interference in busy AV environments. Gold-plated contacts improve contact reliability over time. The cable is supplied as a single unit and works well for connecting sources like media players, set-top boxes, and PCs to TVs, monitors, or projectors.
