Product details

The Prokord cable connects mobile devices, peripherals, and some printing equipment to host ports for data transfer and low-power charging. Its straight, male-to-male connectors fit standard USB-A and Micro USB-B ports without adapters. The LSZH jacket reduces toxic smoke in case of fire and makes the cable suitable for office and public environments where safety standards are important. Nickel-plated contacts and a flexible round jacket support routine use and easy cable management.
