Product description

Why choose this DisplayPort to DVI-D cable?

Prokord Cable Displayport - DVI-D Single Link 1m White connects devices with DisplayPort outputs to monitors or projectors with DVI-D inputs. The one metre length reduces desk clutter while straight, gold-plated male connectors provide a secure fit and stable digital video transmission. DisplayPort 1.2 compatibility ensures reliable performance for everyday office and meeting-room use.

Prokord Cable Displayport - DVI-D Single Link 1m White in short:

- Connects DisplayPort sources to DVI-D displays for straightforward video routing in meeting rooms and workstations.
- Compact 1 m length simplifies cable management on desks and AV racks.
- Straight male connectors on both ends with gold-plated contacts for consistent signal transfer and a secure connection.
- DisplayPort 1.2 compatible, suitable for standard office and conference-room displays.
- Not intended for long-distance runs or high-resolution professional video production.

Product details

This cable provides a direct, single-link digital connection from a DisplayPort output to a DVI-D input. The DVI-D connector carries a digital-only signal, so it is not suitable for VGA or analog inputs. The white jacket and compact form factor help the cable blend into office environments while remaining easy to route. Each pack contains one cable, making it a simple, practical choice for routine AV and workstation setups.
