Product description

Why choose this DisplayPort cable?

Prokord PV-DP-DP140.5B video cable adapter 0.5 m DisplayPort Black gives you a short, dependable connection between DisplayPort sources and displays. It reduces cable clutter on the desk and provides a secure fit for stable video transmission, while the flexible, low-smoke jacket makes it easier to route in tight or shared spaces.

PV-DP-DP140.5B video cable adapter 0.5 m DisplayPort Black in short:

- 0.5 m length, ideal for close-proximity connections such as PC to monitor or docking station to display.
- Male-to-male straight DisplayPort connectors for direct, plug-and-play use.
- One connector includes a release latch for a secure, vibration-resistant connection.
- TPE jacket with low smoke zero halogen construction for flexibility and safer installations.
- Consideration: the short length is suited for near-field setups and not for long cable runs.

Product details

The cable connects two DisplayPort-equipped devices reliably and with minimal setup. The short 0.5 m length keeps your workspace tidy and limits excess cable between devices. Straight male connectors make installation straightforward, and the latch on one plug helps prevent accidental disconnection. The thermoplastic elastomer jacket provides flexibility, and the LSZH material reduces toxic smoke in confined environments. The black finish blends with common AV and IT equipment.
