Prokord Ethernet Cat.6 Patch Cable Bendable Rj45 0.3M in short:

- Short 0.3 m length keeps connections neat between adjacent ports in patch panels and compact workstations.
- Bendable right-angle RJ-45 connectors allow low-profile routing and reduce stress on plugs.
- Unshielded Cat 6 construction, suitable for standard office and data cabinet networks.
- Blue, round cable for easy identification and clean cable runs.
- Note: unshielded design may not be ideal in high-interference industrial environments.

Product details

The Prokord cable connects two RJ-45 ports with a compact, low-profile link. The bendable right-angle connectors make it easy to route the cable behind switches, patch panels, and wall outlets without stressing the plug. Its unshielded Cat 6 construction is designed for typical office and data cabinet networks. Supplied as a single blue 0.3 m cable, it is ideal for short patching tasks and tidy cable management.
