Product description

CIRAFON ULTRA-CLEAR (DOUBLE TEMPERED) PRIVACY – iPhone 15 & iPhone 16

The glass on a smartphone needs to provide accurate touch responsiveness while being durable enough for everyday use. With a premium privacy screen protector from Cirafon, your display is effectively protected against scratches, impacts, and other damage – without compromising the original screen feel.

Cirafon Ultra-Clear (Double Tempered 9H) Privacy is designed to match the high technical performance and sleek design of both the iPhone 15 and iPhone 16. The privacy filter limits viewing angles, making the screen content visible only when viewed directly from the front, helping to protect sensitive information in public environments.

With tempered privacy glass from Cirafon, you get thin yet durable protection for your phone’s display while maintaining the same smooth feel as the original screen. No rubber-like sensation as with traditional plastic screen protectors. The glass also helps reduce fingerprints and smudges for a cleaner and clearer display experience.

Screen Protection

A single drop is often enough to crack a smartphone screen, which can be both expensive and time-consuming to repair. To protect your phone from everyday damage, using a screen protector is always recommended.

Cirafon offers carefully selected and tested screen protectors that provide a durable protective surface without affecting touch sensitivity or image quality.

Why Glass Is Better Than Plastic

Choosing a tempered glass screen protector provides a far more natural feel compared to plastic alternatives, combined with excellent resistance against scratches and impacts. Glass is also easier to install and minimizes the risk of air bubbles, which are common with plastic films.

With a Cirafon glass screen protector, you maintain the same touch experience as without a screen protector – while giving your display reliable protection and enhanced privacy protection.

For Optimal Protection

Combine your screen protector with a Cirafon phone case for even better all-around protection.
