Product description

VOXICON WIRED OFFICE MOUSE GR800 - THE PERFECT OFFICE MOUSE

Looking for a reliable and ergonomic mouse for your office? The Voxicon Wired Office Mouse GR800 is a high-performance solution designed for business owners who want to optimize their workday. With advanced technology, durability, and comfort, this mouse is a must-have for the modern office.

Optimal precision and control

With six levels of adjustable motion resolution - from 800 to 6400 DPI - the Voxicon GR800 offers customized precision for any task. Whether you're working on detailed spreadsheets or navigating between tabs and windows, this mouse gives you the flexibility you need. Optical tracking technology ensures precise movement on most surfaces, including black and white.

Complete your workstation with a Voxicon mouse pad for even better precision and a smooth work surface.

Built to last

With an incredible 50 million clicks lifespan, the GR800 is designed for long-term use. The four push buttons, including front and back buttons for smooth web navigation, give you an intuitive and efficient working experience. The robust construction in ABS material ensures durability in a busy working environment.

Ergonomic design for long-lasting comfort

The GR800 is specially designed for right-handed users with a comfortable grip that reduces hand strain during long working days. Weighing only 90 grams and measuring 67 x 40 x 122 mm, the mouse is easy to use and ideal for desktop environments. The 1.8 meter long cable gives you flexibility and freedom of movement without hassle.

For a complete and stylish workspace, you can also combine the mouse with a Voxicon keyboard that matches both design and performance.

Quick installation - Plug-and-Play

Thanks to the plug-and-play feature, you don't have to waste time on installations. Connect the mouse via USB Type-A and you're ready to work in seconds. This makes it a great choice for both desktops and laptops.
