Product description

Why choose this mouse?

Voxicon Wired Office Mouse L40W USB-A/C combines reliable optical performance with flexible connectivity for modern workplaces. Its ambidextrous design, adjustable DPI settings, and dual USB Type-A and Type-C connectors make it a practical choice for desktops, laptops, and hybrid office environments. Built for everyday productivity, it offers responsive tracking, durable switches, and straightforward plug-and-play operation.

L40W in short:

- Ambidextrous ergonomic design for comfortable left- and right-handed use.
- Optical sensor with four DPI levels: 800, 1200, 1600, and 2400 DPI.
- Dedicated DPI switch for quick sensitivity adjustments.
- Four buttons and a vertical scroll wheel for efficient everyday navigation.
- Dual USB Type-A and USB Type-C connectivity for broad compatibility.
- 1.5 m cable and plug-and-play support for easy setup without additional software.

Main functions

The L40W is designed for everyday office tasks and general productivity. The built-in DPI switch allows users to change pointer sensitivity instantly, making it suitable for both precision work and faster navigation. Four buttons and a traditional scroll wheel provide intuitive control without unnecessary complexity.

Performance and control

The optical sensor supports four selectable resolution modes up to 2400 DPI, delivering accurate tracking across common work surfaces. With a tracking speed of 28 ips, 10 G acceleration, a 125 Hz polling rate, and an 8 ms response time, the mouse offers dependable responsiveness for daily computing tasks.

Design and comfort

The L40W features an ergonomic ambidextrous shape that accommodates a wide range of users. Weighing approximately 80 g, it remains lightweight and easy to handle during extended use. The durable switches are rated for millions of clicks, while the integrated illumination and 1.5 m cable complete a practical design tailored for modern office environments.
