Product description

Why choose this phone case?

A shock-resistant phone case with MIL-STD-810H certification provides reliable protection for your device in everyday use. Tested for drops up to 1.5 meters, the case helps reduce the risk of damage in accidents, without compromising on design or user experience.

The smart hybrid construction combines a hard polycarbonate back with flexible TPU edges that effectively absorb shocks, especially when dropped on corners and edges. At the same time, the case maintains a slim and lightweight profile that does not make the phone bulky.

The matte surface provides a secure grip and reduces fingerprints, keeping the case clean and neat over time. Raised edges around the screen and camera protect sensitive parts when the phone is placed on flat surfaces.
