Product description

Cirafon Business Laptop Sleeve 12" with shoulder strap

Cirafon Business Laptop Sleeve 12" with shoulder strap is a stylish and protective laptop bag for anyone who wants to transport their computer safely in a professional everyday environment. The bag is designed for laptops up to 12 inches and combines low weight with well thought out protection and practical details.

The compact design makes the bag easy to carry in your hand or over your shoulder, while it also fits smoothly into larger bags and backpacks. Perfect for commuting, meetings and travel where both functionality and a businesslike look are important.

Robust and professional design

The bag is made of durable nylon with a discreet two tone finish that gives a sober and professional impression. The sturdy zippers and reinforced seams contribute to long durability during daily use.

A spacious outer pocket provides room for accessories such as chargers, cables, documents or smaller work tools, making it easy to keep track of your most important items.

Protective interior for safe transport

The inside is padded and equipped with reinforced edge and side protection that helps absorb shocks and protect the computer from impacts and pressure. The soft inner lining reduces the risk of scratches and keeps the computer securely in place during transport.

This makes the bag a reliable choice for anyone who is often on the go and wants to protect their laptop in all situations.

Flexible carrying comfort

Cirafon Business Laptop Sleeve comes with a detachable and adjustable shoulder strap that provides flexibility in how the bag is carried. You can easily switch between carrying it in your hand or over your shoulder depending on the situation and your needs.
