SEEING IS BELIEVING

Organizations are using Sherpa's turnkey system to create more-engaging video experiences. "Our appliance customers have a very accurate and precise view of what the finished product will look like because we use Dell Ultra HD 4K monitors with PremierColor," says Strathdee. "They get true-to-life colors, and they can easily adjust settings to achieve the hues they are looking for. The high resolution and color saturation are especially important when blending different camera shots into one seamless image for VR and 360 experiences." In addition to delivering 4K resolution and Adobe RGB, Dell monitors facilitate rapid refresh rates, which prevent blurring and ghost images.
